A Chicago commercial dispatch says "hogs declined 10 cents." We know hogs who wouldn't even decline 5 cents.

The Populists are claiming Roosevelt. Maybe they're right about Roosevelt's politics. We have no counter claim to file.

Harry Thaw is not 24 years old yet but he has a past that Methuseleh in all the 900 years of his cavortings never left behind him.

The old slogan with a slight variation: "Hold Robeson and save Patterson." This is emblazoned on the Pattersonian banners.

The fact that the Fayetteville convention will meet in the Armory is suggestive in connection with the bellicose outlook.

Notwithstanding the Fayettevile embargo on "sperrits," there'll be nothing dry about the convention to-day if the thermometer does its duty.

When a London woman goes to a bargain counter sale she calls it it "saling." P. S. Of course, New York women will do the same, and the word will come along down the line to Swamphurst.

The average Republican politician hasn't got anything against the trusts, but they do feel a little resentment against the trusts for using such open-handed methods of abusing Republican friendship.

Says the Washington Post: "Senator Platt says he is not satisfied with his political career." If the Senator feels that way about it himself he can't have the heart to blame the balance of us for not being satisfied with his political career.

In their address to the people the members of the lower house of the Russian Parliament were under the impression that the people are the government. The Czar (with his army) will consider them a lot of guys for taking so much for granted.

[illegible]ONVENTION DAY

HAVE CHANGED TO 2 O'CLOCK

Many Delegates Are Already On Grounds and Others Will Arrive on Noon Train—The Observer's Review of the Situation.

Democrats of the Cape Fear region are moving on every train to Fayetteville for the Sixth District Congressional Convention which convenes in that city this afternoon at 2 o'clock, the change of the hour from noon having been officially announced yesterday by Chairman George L. Morton, of the District Executive Committee, owing to the inability of many of the delegates to arrive from several of the counties until after the hour originally named. Col. Morton has already arrived in Fayetteville and has opened committee headquarters at the Hotel LaFayette. A meeting of the committee will be held in Room 17 at the LaFayette this morning at 11 o'clock for the purpose of arranging preliminaries incident to the Convention.

The address of welcome in behalf of the city of Fayetteville will be delivered by Capt. Jas. D. McNeil to the visitors immediately after the temporary organization is effected. Then it is probable that the Credentials Committee will be named and a recess taken until later in the afternoon or at night. Many of the delegates are already on the grounds, including perhaps a majority of those from New Hanover, who left yesterday morning and yesterday afternoon by the Seaboard Air Line. A number of the delegates from Brunswick are in the city and will leave on the morning train to-day for Fayetteville. The Observer of yesterday afternoon thus sizes up the situation in the Convention city at the hour of going to press:

"A very large number of the delegates from the different counties are already in attendance for the Congressional convention of to-morrow, but many more will be in this afternoon. Chairman G. L. Morton, of New Hanover, of the district executive committee, has his headquarters at the Hotel LaFayette. Candidate H. L. Godwin arrived yesterday afternoon, and all the aspirants for position will be mingling with the delegates between now and 9 o'clock to-night.

"The question of the permanent chairmanship is the burning question of this afternoon's discussion. His whereabouts, or his 'local habitation and name,' is on all sides conceded to be a matter of prime importance. Whether he shall come from a neutral county, or from one of those having a candidate, is yet in abeyance.

"As to the candidates, it is yet a mere matter of conjecture. It is generally conceded that many ballots will be requied to nominate. The different aspirants are hopeful, and the 'hard pan' of their friends will not develop until late to-morrow night.

"In the meantime, the delegates now in the city seem to be enjoying themselves, and the Observer, in behalf of Fayetteville, extends to them a cordial welcome.

"Most of the New Hanover and some of the Columbus and Brunswick contingents will come on the Atlantic and Yadkin R. R. at 12:30 o'clock, and the remainder via Maxton; part of the delegation from Bladen will come up the Cape Fear, and part by Maxton; Harnett's Democrats will come by the Atlantic Coast Line, the Raleigh and Southport, and across the country; practically all the Robeson county delegation will arrive by the Maxton train.

"Although the district vote has already been given in the Observer, for the convenient reference of its readers the votes for 1902 and 1906 are given below, showing the difference in totals and majority:

"In 1902—Columbus, 44 votes; Brunswick, 18; New Hanover, 59; Bladen, 32; Robeson, 82; Cumberland, 54; Harnett, 30. Total, 319 votes; necessary to a choice, 160 votes or 159 and a fraction.

"In 1906—Columbus, 32 votes; Brunswick, 13; New Hanover, 26; Bladen, 20; Robeson, 49; Cumberland, 34; Harnett, 24. Total, 198 votes; necessary to a choice 100 votes, or 99 and a fraction."

OFF FOR MOREHEAD

COMPANY IN FINE SHAPE

In the best of form, but with not as large a percentage of members as it should have taken, the Wilmington Light Infantry left yesterday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock on a special train over the Newbern railroad for the annual encampment of the National Guard at Morehead City. They were joined here by the Charlotte Artillery and the Maxton company, arriving on a special train over the Seaboard Air Line at 1:30 o'clock, the train being in charge of Capt. G. B. Davie and being accompanied by Maj. Chas. H. Gattis, Traveling Passenger Agent of the Seaboard. The Seaboard special was consolidated with the Coast Line special with the W. L. I. on board at Hilton and they proceeded at once from that point. The Light Infantry boys are well equipped for their outing and the roster of the command upon its departure was practically the same as was given in yesterday's paper. A car load of provisions and other supplies were carried in a separate car.

The Seaboard special consisted of three coaches for the troops, a baggage car, two stock cars for the horses of the Charlotte Artillery and a flat car upon which was piled the guns of the same company. The horses were very fine and were obtained from a liveryman at Rock Hill, S. C. The Artillery consists of 65 men and four officers. Capt Mark W. Williams is in command of the battery. There were 21 of the horses, eight for drawing the artillery guns and 13 saddlers.

The Wilmington Light Infantry will make its usual fine showing in camp and reports from them will be watched with interest. Capt. Robertson is in command and all its equipment is first class. The encampment will last ten days including the time going and coming and the boys are expected back the last of the coming week.

NIGHT SENSATION

Wronged Husband Has Hotel Raided to Find Wife Who Came Here With Another Man.

On last night's train from a city further South, a husband arrived in Wilmington in search of an errant wife. She arrived in the city on Wednesday morning, ostensibly to visit relatives in this city, and was accompanied by her two children and nurse. It is said she registered at a hotel with a man under an assumed name, and all went well until the wronged husband arrived.

He soon located the erring wife and secured a warrant at 10 o'clock last night at the City Hall and officers went with him to serve it. Meanwhile, however, the man got wind of these proceedings and skipped out from the hotel.

After the man escaped, the woman in the case was asked to vacate the hotel, which she did, going to another with her husband. It is understood that the husband and wife will affect a reconciliation on account of their children.

Red Men's Exqursion To-day.

If the weather is at all favorable an immense crowd will go on the Red Men's excursion to Carolina Beach to-day. There will be three boats with a late trip at night and good order is promised by the committee in charge. There will be various features of amusement, including a war dance in full regalia and the exciting chase and capture of a pale face in the forest who will be duly scalped and burned at the stake. Other features will be music, dancing, bowling, bathing and the like. A trap shoot in the afternoon will claim the attention of many. A handsome medal now in the possession of Mr. H. A. Kure will be contested for.

COTTON MILL STRIKE

OBJECTED TO FOREIGNERS

Italians Brought to Be Learned to Work at Looms Said to be Responsible For the Trouble—No Overt Disturbance Reported.

The Fayetteville Observer of yesterday afternoon has the following with regard to a strike of cotton mill operatives at Hope Mills, affecting perhaps more than a thousand employes of the four large factories there:

"There is to-day trouble which may or may not prove serious, at Hope Mills, an important cotton manufacturing centre in the State. Yesterday the hands in Hope Mills No. 2 quit work and left the building, and this action was followed by that of the operatives in the three other factories this morning. Up to the hour of going to press no overt disturbance is reported from the scene of the strike, but Sheriff Marsh has been requested to hold deputies in readiness should any trouble occur.

"The grievance of the hands of the Hope Mills Manufacturing Company grows out of the recent arrival of a number of Italians, who were brought here by the company, with a view to employing them at the looms, should their services prove satisfactory—for, as the reporter understands it, they are to be taught and trained.

"On the part of the manufacturers it is urged that labor is so scarce here that the looms, at interva's, were idle, and that the employment of workmen from abroad was a necessity. On the part of the operatives, the influx of foreign labor is resented, as the bringing into the community of a people differing in religion, modes of life, manners, customs, etc., besides the diminution of the chances of employment for home people.

"The Hope Mills Manufacturing Company operates four large, finely equipped mills, turning out an exceptionally high grade of goods. It has always borne the reputation of treating its force well, and paying as good prices for labor as the market will permit. This is not a strike for higher wages."

A.C.L. APPOINTMENTS

Changes in Two District Superintendents Are Announced—Mr. J. F. Council, Trainmaster, Promoted.

An official order is expected in a few days from the office of General Superintendent A. W. Anderson, of the Atlantic Coast Line, announcing the appointment of Mr. E. R. Wooten, superintendent of the Richmond district, with headquarters at Richmond, Va., vice Capt. J. P. Russell, resigned, and the appointment of Mr. J. F. Council as superintendent of the Norfolk district, vice Mr. Wooten, transferred.

It is understood that Capt. Russell will continue in the employ of the Coast Line in another capacity, his resignation having been on account of failing health. Mr. J. F. Council is now trainmaster at Wilmington and his promotion to the Norfolk district will be received with gratification by many friends here and elsewhere. He is regarded as a man of splendid executive ability and railroad experience. It is presumed that Mr. Council will remove at once to Norfolk and assume the duties of his office. Friends of Mr. Council will regret to have him leave Wilmington but will at the same time rejoice at his rapid advance in the railroad world.

VIEWS OF 'FRISCO HORROR.

Well Pleased Audience at Academy. Seashore Hotel To-night.

The moving picture exhibition of the San Francisco horror interspersed with vaudeville specialties at the Academy of Music last night was enjoyed by a small but an enthusiastic audience. The views were realistic in the extreme and were put on admirably by the company in charge with all the necessary effects. Scenes in the "City Beautiful," both before and after the earthquake horror, were shown and the contrast was striking and startling.

By special arrangement the views will be presented to-night in the auditorium of the Seashore Hotel when the full production will be given. The doors will open at 9 o'clock and those who miss the show will be the losers.

MANY CASES TRIED

TO CALL THE SHOCKLEY CASE

Date For Its Trial Will Likely Be Set This Morning—Archie Marine's Singular Request of Judge Jones. Proceedings of the Day.

The second day's session of New Hanover Superior Court yesterday was again marked by the rapid dispatch of business, Judge Jones having well established a reputation for disposing of business with all the rapidity consistent with justice. No cases of very great importance were tried yesterday, but a number of jail cases were cleared from the docket and good headway was made by the grand jury. It has now been decided to call up the Shockley case this morning. The attorneys, witnesses, etc., will be present and a time will be definitely agreed upon for the hearing, which will most probably be on Monday. Wm. J. Bellamy, Esq., has been employed to assist the Solicitor with the prosecution. He had a conference yesterday afternoon with Mrs. Talbert, widow of the man who was killed.

An amusing incident of the session of the court yesterday was in connection with the case of Archie Marine, the well-known diver who, with Robert Johnson, a young white man, was charged with the larceny of a quart of whiskey from a Castle street saloon. The trial resulted in a fiasco, and Judge Jones permitted the indictment to be changed to forcible trespass, suspending judgment upon payment of costs, amounting to only about $6. Just when the case had been about laughed out of court, "Senator" Marine, who is something of a character about town, was seen to approach the Judge's bench rather stealthily and engage His Honor in a brief conversation, the tenor of which was an appeal that his punishment be somewhat lightened. "Why, man a life!" the Judge was heard to exclaim, "what do you want me to do—give you a chromo along with the suspension of the judgment?" The "Senator" hustled out and Mr. H. McL. Green finally responded to Archie's appeal to pay the money and keep him out of jail.

Upon the convening of court yesterday morning, the following jurors were returned as summoned for the day: E. O. Hunter, E. Z. Milton, R. B. Moore, John V. Gurley, Henry Horne, Champ. McD. Davis, Robert L. Weaver, R. H. Northrop, P. D. Jenkins, Robert S. Collins, G. J. Beach, Stephen Chubb, J. H. Dew, W. A. Walker, W. H. H. Todd, Robert L. Truelove, Ed. G. Hall and J. W. Scott. Not found, A. M. Pate, Stephen Sneeden, Calvin Bowen, N. B. Rankin, W. L. Parsley, I. H. Kirkland. Excused by the court, Henry Horne, J. W. Scott and Robert S. Collins.

The case of Hartsfield Crandall, charged with forcible trespass, was resumed, William J. Bellamy, Esq., appearing with the Solicitor for the State. A verdict of guilty was returned by the jury and the defendant was sentenced to six months on the roads of the county. In another case against him for his participation in an affray in which a deadly weapon was used, he was given 12 months on the roads, making 18 months in all. In a third case to which he submitted to an assault with a deadly weapon, judgment was suspended.

Frank Jones, J. B. Blueford, John Grady and John Thomas, a quartette of crap shooters. All but Blueford pleaded guilty. The jury, however, found Blueford guilty and he was sentenced to four months. The three who submitted were given 90 days.

N. B. Bishop submitted to carrying concealed weapons and was fined $5 and costs.

Thos. Costin, charged with an assault with a deadly weapon, also submitted and was fined $10 and costs.

Calvin Hall, charged with retailing liquor on Sunday, was found not guilty and in another case for retailing without license, judgment was suspended.

R. L. Washburn, for non-appearance, had a judgment absolute entered against him.

In cases against Wm. Bunting, by order of the court, the forfeiture was stricken out and the cases dismissed.

Tyson Brower, called and failed, ni si sci fa stricken out, bond to be filed in 30 days.

FREEDOM FOR VICTOR RUBE.

Judge Purnell Makes an Order Releasing Prisoner Jailed Here.

Judge Thomas R. Purnell, of the United States Circuit Court, has made an order releasing from imprisonment Victor Rube, confined in the county jail here under sentence last March for a term of six months for insubordination aboard the revenue cutter Seminole. Rube is a Sweedish sailor and has suffered with ill health and the fare provided in New Hanover jail. On these grounds Judge Purnell made the order, it is stated in a press dispatch from Raleigh.

The order was not received here yesterday in time for the insubordinate sailor to be released. While the jail fare is necessarily not as good as the seaman has been accustomed to, it is reported that Rube has grown as fat as a pig on it, but, of course, relief from the confinement will be welcomed by him. Much sympathy has been expressed for him, both during and after the trial.

GOOD TIMES IN THE UNITED STATES.

The people of the United States have every reason to be a contented and happy lot. We have the finest country in the world, its vast resources and productiveness are unequalled, its climate is widely varied, and its population is homogenious, with a singleness of purpose that is marvellous to contemplate. We are at peace among ourselves and with all the world and plenty reigns throughout our great domain. Let us look at this bright picture from the Washington Post which gives us some of the reasons why we should feel grateful:

"No more striking proof of the general prosperity of the country could be given than the sale of $30,000,000 2 per cent. short-term canal bonds at 104. While this is going on in the United States, England is facing a cris is in South Africa; France and Germany are affected by the Russian situation, and Russian bonds last week fell ten points below the lowest point reached during the war with Japan. Gold is beginning to drift to the United States in payment of the enormous balance of trade in our favor.

"The practical assurance of immense crops of wheat, cotton, and corn has further stimulated industrial activity in this country, and forthcoming exports of these crops promise to make further drains upon Europe. Har vesting of wheat is in progress, and the quality and quantity of the yield are unprecedented. Prices are slightly lower in consequence. The corn crop will be a record-breaker, from present prospects. The yield of oats will be much larger than was expected three weeks ago, and prices have declined 4 cents.

"The price of cotton for immediate delivery advanced ten points last week, but speculation in futures is almost absent, with declining prices on account of the increasing evidences of a big crop and the ability of planters to hold their product for a good price. There is considerable activity in the cotton goods market. Mill owners are encouraged by the prospects, and several of them have voluntarily announced increased wages, effective August 1.

"The scarcity of pig iron is beginning to be felt seriously, on account of the steady inflow of orders for structural steel, steel rails, etc. There is more activity in steel manufacture than ever before in midsummer. Among the orders booked last week was one from the Southern Railroad for 30,000 tons of rails. Some of the big mills report that they have orders for next year's delivery that will tax their capacitf. Pipe mills are also busy one order from Kansas calling for 200 miles of pipe. Building operations all over the country are pushing the mills for structural steel and hardware.

"Railroad extension is more active in the South than in any other part of the country. The prosperity of the South is shown, moreover, in the reports of the Postoffice Oepartment. The revenues of the postoffice increased 42 per cent. during the year ended June 30, while the increase last year was 24 per cent. The States showing the largest percentages of increase were all in the South, with South Carolina in the van.

"For the five months ended May 31, ninety-three railroads show gross earnings two and a quarter times as large as those of the corresponding period in 1905. The net earnings this year were three and a half times as large as those of 1905. Bank earnings last week were 13.1 per cent. greater than during the same week last year.

"The demand for labor is apparently unsatisfied, in spite of unprecedented immigration and the absence of strikes and lockouts. Broadly speaking, every man in the United States able and willing to work is now employed. It is little wonder that this expenditure of energy and bountiful crops should create a wonderful prosperity."

It is all the more gratifying that our prosperity is not one-sided. The South shares in the good times and the prospects are on the enlarging scale.

GREATER CHARLOTTE CLUB.

This is the dull time of the year but the energetic men of Charlotte do not let the heat and enui of the season interfere with their ambitious schemes to make a larger and more important city of Charlotte. The Queen City already excites the envy of many Southern cities, and with its business men, and particularly its young men enlisted in a movement to develop the city, it is bound to go forward. The following from the Charlotte Observer of yesterday will be read with interest:

"At an enthusiastic meeting of the Greater Charlotte Club, held in the Y. M. C. A. parlors last night, the club decided to begin, at once, an aggressive campaign for the purpose suggested in its name—making Charlotte greater. With this end in view the club elected Mr. W. T. Corwith permanent secretary. Mr. Corwith will devote his entire time to the duties of his office, answering correspondence concerning this city and section of the country and keeping suitable literature descriptive of the resources of Charlotte and vicinity. The members of the club, numbering about 100 of the city's most progressive young men, are in earnest about the matter and they are going to work in the proper spirit.

"Mr. Corwith, the new secretary, will leave within a few days for the West, where he will spend a few weeks studying the methods used by the industrial clubs in the progressive cities of that section. He will return to the icty about September 1 and will then take up the work proper. Mr. Corwith is an energetic and capable young man and admirably fitted for his new position, having had large experience in the advertising and real estate business. 'Watch Charlotte grow!'"

The plan is a good one. No city will grow unless its citizens help it along, and in organizing to do city building the Greater Charlotte Club is setting a good example. What Charlotte does other cities can do.

Wilmington has a Chamber of Commerce that, besides its commercial business, does effective work for the benefit of our city. There is no telling what it is worth to Wilmington.

NEW STEAMBOAT REGULATIONS.

The new steamboat regulations, under the act as amended at the recent session of Congress were promulgated at Washington on Tuesday. The laws concerning steamboat inspection and life-saving service were amended in several particulars but most of them are of a purely administrative nature.

One of the important new features is that providing that in life saving work, a life-saving shoulder gun which will throw a line about 800 feet, shall be a part of the equipment for saving people from drowning. This gun in many instances can be used in connection with the cannon ordinarily used for that purpose and in some instances can be employed when the cannon cannot be used for firing a line to a ship or to a drowning person at sea. It might be a good idea for all vessels to carry a shoulder gun, and several of them might prove quite effective in saving life at our seaside resorts where bathers meet with a mishap or get into trouble on account of recklessness.

Another provision of the regulations is that the masters of passenger barges shall hereafter have to take out a license from the government.

CURRENT COMMENT.

—We were expecting those Anson county gentlemen to get out of it, but not exactly that way.—Durham Herald.

—Conditions are not all against Harry Thaw. It is announced that District Attorney Jerome is going to personally conduct the prosecution against him.—Washington Post.

—While you are taking the trouble to find out if the candidates are right on the temperance question it would be just as well to make sure that they are not wrong on about everything else.—Durham Herald.

—Andrew D. White has joined the legal reformers who would expedite punishment by refusing appeals in criminal cases. While the American people allow appeals in controversies over a thousand dollars, they will not bar appeals to men on trial for their lives. But in the granting of appeals on technical grounds there is undoubtedly much room for reform by the higher courts.—Philadelphia Record.

—And now the executive council of the American Federation of Labor advises working men to abandon their old party affiliations, and to vote only for men who will support the things organized labor wants. If this thing keeps up nothing will be left for the great middle classes but to organize to protect themselves from the labor extremists on one hand and the "capitalistics harpies" on the other. However, the two old parties will doubtless remain in business for a while longer.—Chattanooga Times.

—The business men of Charleston and other South Carolina towns are making efforts to induce the railroads to give them better passenger and mail train service. The complaint is made that it is possible for passengers from certain points in South Carolina to go to New York in less time than they could go to Charleston. We have received many complaints of the same sort of thing in Georgia. It is hard to understand why the railroads do not pay more attention to the needs of their local traffic, since it is that traffic that enables them to pay dividends. If the roads were more careful of local needs and accommodations the probabilities are that they would be better thought of in the State Legislatures.—Savannah News.

CURSE TO HIMSELF AND HIS FAMILY

HIS DOOM APPEARED SEALED

Fortunately There Was A Remedy and It Was the Keeley Treatment—He Was Cured and is A New Man.

The Keeey Institute, Greensboro, N. C.:

I was induced about seven years ago to take a course in your Institution, but I almost thought myself hopeless, as I was a miserable wretch and curse to myself and family; but, realizing the fact that unless something was done and done quickly, my doom would be forever sealed, and that a drunkard's grave would be the final result, I took the advice of my friends and entered your grand Institute, and completed the course in about four weeks; and, to my surprise, I found that the great thirst and desire for strong drink had vanished "Like mist before the rising sun," and, although it has been several years since I took the treatment, I am still a new man, and have no desire whatever for the hell-broth that came so near pulling me down to a devil's hell.

Before taking your course I was not the only one miserable, but my dear wife and children also were. After completing your course I returned to my home, and everything seemed changed. It seemed as though I had entered another world, a real paradise, and a land of sunshine and flowers. I heartily recommend and beg any poor wretch, who is addicted to the liquor habit, to take a course at once in your great Institution, and the result will be inevitable and he will thank God for such an institution. You will find the officers, manager, and physician as kind and painstaking as can be, and everything possible will be done for your comfort, and for a speedy cure.

I honestly believe that for kind treatment and speedy and lasting cure effected, this grand institution has no equal. Let the work go on and on, and I sincerely hope and pray that all men who are addicted to strong drink will go to the fountain, the Greensboro Keeley Institute, and be forever healed. T. M. SHEETS.

Lexington, N. C., Oct. 30, 1904.

J. T. Ebert, of 515 South Sixth St., mattress maker, says: "I used Doan's Kidney Pills in my family. My little girl complained of severe pains in the small of her back, and the kidney secretions were dark and full of brick-dust sediment. We were very much worried about her and when I learned of Doan's Kidney Pills, I went up to R. R. Bellamy's drug store and got a box and gave them to her. Since using them she had improved wonderfully and is a different child. Her kidney secretions cleared up, she does not complain of her back, and, in fact, Doan's Kidney Pills gave her new life. We are very much pleased with them and you can use my name and welcome."

SPIRITS TURPENTINE

—The Seaboard Air Line has issued a circular to the effect that it is prepared to handle Fayetteville freight and trade for its line over the Raleigh & Southport Railroad.

—The Raleigh & Southport Railroad will put on several new passenger coaches between Raleigh and Fayetteville about the first week in August, one of them being a finely equipped chair car.

—An important land sale was made at Fayetteville on Saturday, Mr. C. C. Bullard purchasing the Poined farm of about 200 acres for $6,000. He will build a residence and put up a planing mill and machine shop.

—The Atlantic Coast Line officials have informed Mr. F. R. Rose, secretary of the Fayetteville Chamber of Commerce, that on the 5th of August the Elrod connection will be made, giving Fayetteville quick transit to Columbia, S. C.

—There was a wreck on the Pittsboro road Tuesday, caused by spreading rails. It occurred two miles from Moncure, completely turning over the coach and box car. There were six ladies and six men on the train, all of whom escaped with a good shaking. Three of the ladies and one man received slight cuts and bruises.

—A Fayetteville, correspondent states that one of the first important improvements in the Hotel LaFayette, which is to be remodeled and refitted throughout, is the new dining room just open for the accommodation of guests. In convenience of arrangement and tastefulness of decoration it has no superior in the State.

—Hickory Special, July 24: Owing to the suspicious evidence leading up to the death of an infant, occurring two miles south of the city, the verdict of the coroner's jury, after post-mortem examination of the body, was that the child had come to its death by a blow on the forehead at the hands of its mother, Dora Marlow, an unmarried woman who lived on the farm of Pink Ward. The woman was arrested this afternoon and sent to Newton jail, where she will be held for further hearing.

Asheville Special, July 24: Georgia editors, composing the Georgia Weekly Press Association, and many lady companions have spent most enjoyably the day in Asheville. The party, some 150 strong, arrived here from Lake Toxaway and this morning went on a drive over the Biltmore estate. This afternoon they were tendered a trolley ride over the city and later lunched at Riverside Park. Among those here with the editors is Mrs. Longstreet, wife of the late General Longstreet, of Civil War fame.

—John Olen, a private in Company A, Fifth North Carolina Infantry, in the Civil War, and enlisted in Fayetteville in 1861, was found on the streets of New York city the other day in a destitute condition, and was taken to Bellevue Hospital. Where he had been, or how he happened to be in New York, is not yet known. Camp 852, Confederate Veterans, of Cumberland county, will look into the matter.

—Jonah Thomas, the negro who shot and killed Ralph Bruer at a negro festival in Burnsville township, Anson county, some time back, died Sunday afternoon of consumption at his home in Burnsville township. Immediately after the killing Thomas was taken to Wadesboro and placed in jail, but some time since, on the testimony given by Dr. J. H. Bennett, the county physician, Judge Shaw ordered that he be released, as it was clearly seen that he could not live much longer.

—Jonas Steele, of Winston-Salem, was struck by lightning Sunday afternoon while returning from his mother's funeral at Camden church, near Elmwood, and died early Monday morning. The mule that he was driving was killed instantly and his son, in the buggy with him, was badly burned. The wife of Max Steele and her son, who were near by, were also severely stunned. All were near the home of Max Steele, brother of Jonas, two miles east of Winston-Salem, when the storm overtook them. Parts of Jonas Steele's body were badly burned and it is said he suffered terribly.

—The Superior Court of McDowell county is in session at Marion this week. A case of considerable importance is that of the State against the nine Italian who are in jail as a result of the feud at Camp No. 6, on the South & Western construction work some months ago. Attorney A. E. Holton is in Marion, avowing his intentions to thoroughly investigate the matter at the request of the Department at Washington and the Italian government. The Italians are represented by Judge Avery, of Morganton, and Mr. Gino C. Spuranza, of New York city, attorney for the Italian consul. Considerable interest is shown in these cases and it is expected that a goodly portion of the time of this term will be taken up in the trials. Solicitor Spainhour has no assistant in the Italian case, as the South & Western Railway Company refuses to have anything to do with the prosecution.

—Salisbury Special, July 24: The officers made a severe example of Mr. Rufus Rufty, who assaulted Rev. Dr. J. C. Rowe Saturday afternoon while the minister was remonstrating with him about his swearing. Mayor Boyden issued a warrant for him yesterday and two officers went into the country five miles after him, Chief Miller having determined that the incident should not go unnoticed. They brought back the ordinarily quiet farmer and he was given an immediate hearing, after which he was fined $5 and all costs. He was then taken before Dr. Rowe and he made the most abject apology, promising to refrain from drinking and swearing for all time. Thus a bellicose incident was turned into an evangelical one. Mr. Rufty, although a dangerous man with his fists, is naturally kind and was thoroughly humiliated. Dr. Rowe never agitated the matter, but the congregation did and the officers did their work well. It meant a term of 60 days on the roads without some atonement.

—State Insurance Commissioner Young has issued a call for a meeting of the policy-holders of the Mutual Life Insurance Co. and the New York Life Insurance Co., to be held in Raleigh September 12th, to consider a plan of action to be followed in the ensuing election of directors in these companies, the elections to be held in New York December 18th. This call of Commissioner Young will closely touch the personal interest of many of the people of the State. It appears from the filed statements of the two companies, whose affairs are thus to be considered by the policy-holders within the State, that the following figures apply to their specific business: At the close of the year ending December 21, 1905: For the Mutual Life Insurance Co., New York, policies, $7,377, amount of insurance in force, $15,107,114; New York Life Co., policies, 6,051, amount of insurance in force $11,171,497.

—Asheville Special, July 24: News was received here to-day of the killing of Hiram Wilson on Shelton Laurel, in Madison county, Friday afternoon, by Fred Sams, a rural mail carrier, some 20 years of age. It is said that Wilson made Sams climb down from his wagon, and that the mail carrier suddenly turned on the desperado and killed him. Wilson was considered the most desperate man in Western North Carolina. He was a blockader and murderer. He killed his brother, State Senator Seeb Wilson, at Burnsville, Yancey county, four years ago, and was acquitted. About 20 years ago he was tried for blockading before Judge Long, found guilty and sentenced to four years in the penitentiary. Judge Long had the man shackled and handcuffed in the court room and sent to Raleigh with a guard of 15 men. He was pardoned after a year's servitude. Some 12 years ago Hiram Wilson killed Young Honeycutt, in Yancey county, in cold blood. There were four trials and he was finally acquitted.

—Salisbury Special, July 24: There is now agitation for a public hanging of the alleged murderers of the Lyerlys, if they are convicted, and the county commissioners will have a petition of that sort to answer, in all likelihood. It is taken as a matter of course that some of the men will go to the gallows, and it is the belief of many good citizens that a public execution will serve the ends of public moralization. Eleven years ago today Salisbury had a double hanging and there was a tremendous crowd. After this feature was over there were baseball games and races and the county commissioners, who yielded in haste to that petition, repented at great leisure. They were censured on all sides. Those who argue that open infliction of the death penalty so drives horror into the hearts and minds of the witnesses that they shrink from such a fate, have a host to reckon with. Rowan has had all sorts of executions, public, half-public, private and under the auspices of that severe nigger terror, Judge Lynch. But Rowan has had a homicide at nearly every court for years and no county in the State has finer officers. The fact that it has the murder cases is a tribute to these. It is certain that strong opposition to the public execution will be developed, and there will be a strong fight made for it.

A Tragic Finish.

A watchman' neglect permitted a leak in the great Northern Sea dyke, which a child's finger could have stopped, ot becomo a ruinous break, devastating an entire province of Holland. In like manner Kenneth McIver of Wnceboro, Me., permitte1 a little cold to go unnoticed until a tragic finish was only averted by Dr. King's New Discovery. He writes: "Three doctors gave me up to die of lung inflamation caused by a neglected cold; but Dr. King's New Discovery saved my life. A ROMANTIC WEDDING.

Visitors to Wilmington Plighted Their Troth Yesterday Evening.

A marriage in this city yesterday evening at 6:30 o'clock at the parsonage of Grace Street Methodist Church will be of much interest to not a few friends in this city and elsewhere, the parties to the marriage vow being Miss Lula J. Carter, of Goldsboro, N. C., and Mr. Charles L. Mock, a popular engineer of the Southern Railway, with headquarters at Spencer, N. C. The wedding was a very quiet affair and was tinged with just the least bit of romance. The bride was visiting in this city at the home of her cousin, Miss Halile Davis, No. 209 North Seventh street, and while there was no parental objection to the match, it was decided not to take the "old folks" into the secret and being joined here by the groom yesterday, they were married.

The bride wore a becoming grey jacket suit of Panama cloth and was very pretty indeed. Rev. N. M. Watson, pastor of Grace Church, officiated. Only a few friends were present, but these tendered their happiest felicitations hurriedly and Mr. and Mrs. Mock left on the northbound A. C. L. train for a wedding trip which will include Chattanooga, Knoxville and Asheville. They will be away a month and returning will be at home at Spencer, N. C., where the groom is well known and popular.

LAWN PARTY TO-NIGHT.

Miss McGirt's Circle Will Delightfully Entertain This Evening.

Miss Mamie McGirt's Circle of Fifth Street M. E. Church will entertain this afternoon and evening at a lawn party which will be given on the lawn adjoining the church building. The afternoon will be for the children when an amusing watermelon race will be given by twelve young boys, and the evening will be devoted to the older young people. A feature of the evening's entertainment will be a musicale in the lecture room of the church, beginning at 8:30 o'clock after which refreshments will be served on the lawn. An admission fee of only ten cents will be charged and all are assured a very pleasant season of entertainment. All friends are cordially invited.

Buried Yesterday Afternoon.

STRUTHERS-WESSELL

At the hospitable country home of Mr. and Mrs. William Struthers, near Grists, N. C., on Tuesday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock, was solemnized a beautiful marriage, the parties to the sacred vows being Miss Isabelle Richmond Struthers, the attractive young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Struthers, and Dr. John Charles Wessell, a leading young physician of Wilmington, connected with the Relief Department of the Atlantic Coast Line. The service was by the Rev. F. T. Wooten and was very impressive, the beautiful ring service being used. Mrs. B. H. Harnley presided at the piano and the wedding marches were delightfully rendered by her.

As she sweetly played the bridal chorus from Lohengrin, Miss Florence Struthers, cousin of the bride and maid of honor, entered the parlor, immediately followed by the bride with her father. They were met at the altar by the groom with his brother, Mr. Luther Wessell, best man who entered from the south door. Little Miss Mabel Wessell was the pretty little flower girl and the ensemble was all that could be desired.

The bride was becomingly attired in white silk batiste and carried bride's roses and ferns. The maid of honor wore a becoming costume of silk mulle over pink and carired pink carnations and ferns. After the ceremony the young people received the heartiest felicitations of the numerous friends assembled to witness the ceremony and at five-thirty o'clock, were accompanied to the station whence they departed on the southbound train for Florence, changing cars there to one of the fast trains for the North. They will spend some time in Atlantic City and other resorts and returning, will be at home in Wilmington, where both are held in the highest esteem. The bride formerly lived here and has a great many friends who will be glad to welcome her back as Mrs. Wessell. The groom is one of Wilmington's most popular young men and will receive the happiest congratulations from very many friends upon his good fortune.

Among those who attended the wedding from Wilmington were Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Wessell, parents of the groom; Miss Mabel Wessel, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Springer, of Wilmington; Mrs. J. A. Rice, of Washington, D. C., sister of the bride; Mr. and Mrs. William Struthers, Jr., of Wilmington; Miss Kathleen Kilpatrick, of Kinston, N. C.; Misses Lydia Yates, Daisy McEachern, Dora Hopkins, Ethel Hopkins and May Walsh and Mr. Harry Newland, of Wilmington.

At the reception following the ceremony dainty refreshments were served, Miss Lois Williams, of Chadbourn, having presided at a flowing bowl where delicious fruit punch was served. The popularity of the young people to the marriage vow was abundantly testified by the numerous and very handsome wedding gifts received by them.

MAY GET UNION DEPOT.

Corporation Commission Investigation of Conditions at Lumberton.

Lumberton, July 25.—Lumbertonians feel delighted over the present prospects of a new passenger depot here. The Corporation Commission is expected to make a formal order this week for the building of a new one by the Seaboard. It has under advisement the matter of size and proportionate amount of the cost that should be borne by the Raleigh & Charleston Railroad, as the station is to be used by the two companies. From point of freight and passenger receipts, as shown by the figures of business done for the fiscal year ending December 30, 1905, Lumberton shows more business for the Seaboard than any point on the road between Wilmington and Charlotte. In the year mentioned the freight receipts alone amounted to $171,494.61, and the passenger business to $13,807.69. For the same period receipts at Monroe were $98,000; Rockingham, $95,000; Maxton, $78,000; Laurinburg, $110,000. Passengers going from Lumberton that year were 49 a day. Approximately the same number came in.

Odd Fellow's Family Excursion.

The excursion to Carolina Beach to-morrow on four trips of the steamer Wilmington promises to attract an unusually large number of members of the order, their families and friends. There will be amusement of all kinds and a good time for all who attend. An address of interest to the order and their friends will be delivered by R. W. Davis, Esq., of Atlantic Lodge, at Southport.

HOME FOR CHILDREN.

Committee Issues An Appeal to Public —Meeting To-day.

The Star has received the following with a request to publish:

The undersigned, appointed a temporary committee to organize the movement, invite the citizens of this community to subscribe to a fund the purpose of which is to acquire, build and maintain a home for sick and afflicted children at Wrightsville, or such other place as may be finally determined.

The conditions in this city are such that there are a large number of babies and little children that a week's outing and care would restore to health; and the necessity of such a place is felt by ministers, physicians, and laymen who have studied and investigated the matter.

Necessarily our beginning will be small, but it is believed that it can be made an institution of not only immediate benefit to the little ones who may be sick, but of permanent value in its influence in the up-building of character.

We appeal to every citizen of this community to contribute to this end, however small the contribution, and let it be an expression of the desire of this community to help care for and protect little children in our midst that are deprived of the healthful necessities of childhood.

Contributions may be left with the name of the contributor, at either of the banks, or drug stores, or newspaper offices of this city, or handed to either of the ministers of the city, or left with the members of the committee, or sent to Dr. C. P. Bolles Treasurer.

After the funds have been raised, the known contributors to the fund will be asked to meet, when a permanent plan of organization will be submitted to them, and, if approved, adopted and trustees for the management of the property be appointed. We desire that these contributions may be sent in as soon as possible, as options have been secured upon property that will expire before the 8th of August.

H. W. Malloy, Chairman; M. W. Divine, W. E. Perdew D. L. Gore, Iredell Meares, M. W. Jacobi, W. B. Cooper, George Rountree, C. W. Polvogt, Committee.

The above named committee are requested to meet at the offices of Messrs. Meares & Ruark, attorneys, Masonic Temple, this morning at 11 A. M.

A FRIGHTFUL RUNAWAY.

Mrs. F. H. Bagg Had Narrow Escape Early Yesterday Afternoon.

The breaking of a girth strap of the harness to which the horse of Mr. Duncan McEachern was attached to a surry being driven down Market street and in which were seated Mr. McEachern's daughter, Mrs. F. H. Bagg, and a colored boy driver, was the cause of a frightful ruuaway early yesterday afternoon. Turning the corner at Front and Market streets and attempting to go toward Dock street, the frightened animal lost its footing and fell, turning the surry over in front of the store of the N. Jacobi Hardware Company. Fortunately Mrs. Bagg had her foot on the broad step of the surry, awaiting a favorable opportunity to alight, and when the surry turned over she escaped with only a severe fall and several bruises. The colored boy was caught under the surry but managed to extricate himself and leap to the head of the horse as it was arising from where it had fallen. Bystanders then stopped the runaway and assisted Mrs. Bagg to a near-by store where she received medical attention and was later taken to her home, suffering principally from the nervous shock.

The horse was perfectly gentle but when the girth broke coming down the hill on Market street, the animal had no way of holding back the vehicle and simply had to run to keep from being run over himself. Mrs. Bagg was reported as resting very quietly last night.

In the fifteenth inning a two bagger by Patrick and two singles scored the winning run with two men out. Batteries: Shraner, Bollinger and Long, Phillips and Perry.

WARSAW OFFICIAL WAS ASSASSINATED

Stabbed to Death in Street By Two Men—Spectators Cooly Looked On—Murder, Riot and Disorder Continues in Russian Empire

By Cable to The Morning Star.

Warsaw, July 25.—Col. Salamatoff, of the gendarmerie, was stabbed to death here to-day.

Salamatoff, who was assistant to the chief of gendarmes of the province of Warsaw, had been active in the repressive measures. He was walking on Mokotowska street at about noon when he was attacked by two men who stabbed him several times and then, as the Colonel sank down dying, walked quickly away in different directions without the spectators trying to stop them.

Lawlessness here is assuming alarming proportions. Daring thefts and robberies, with violence, are of daily occurrences. The police maintain a passive attitude.

Murdering Jews at Odessa.

Odessa, July 25.—During the disturbances of yesterday two Jews were killed, seventeen were wounded and twenty-seven shops were wrecked. General Grigorieff, the prefect of Odessa, caused stringent measures to be taken by the military to protect the lives and property of all classes.

Other Outrages.

Milan, Russia, July 25.—Remplen Castle, situated near Tukum, one of the finest and most ancient in Courland, is in the hands of revolutionists. Armed revolutionists are again in possessios of the surrounding country. Two columns of troops are advancing respectively from the east and west.

Douma Usurped Authority.

Premier Stolypin to-night authorized the official St. Petersburg ageney to issue the following statement to the foreign press:

"From the very first days of its existence the lower house of Parliament overstepped all the limits of law. In its reply to the speech from the Throne, modification of the fundamental law was demanded in the shape of the suppression of the council of the empire and the creation of a responsible cabinet. By its agragrian programme, based on the expropriation of land, the house raised hopes that could not be realized and weakened the respect for property of others, already enfeebled. In the speeches of its members the house consistently discredited the government, which it ever accused of organizing pogroms and disorders. By sending a deputation to Bialystok it openly aspired to usurp executive power.

"Fourteen deputies appealed to the people, inciting disorders, a step which called forth no expression of disapprobation from the house. In the last moment of its existence the house declared that the government had acted illegally in explaining to the population the nature of the agragrian project proposed by itself and decided to address a manifesto to the people, persuading them not to believe in the government regarding the question, but to await its settlement by Parliament. Several members also undertook journeys to the interior of Russia with the object of supporting agitation, their appearance being glowed by renewed disorders, pogroms and strikes. All these causes necessitated the devision to dissolve the house."

Anarchy in Caucasus.

Tiflis, July 25.—In consequence of revolutionary terrorism the administration of the vice royalty at the Caucasus has been completely paralyzed and officials are resigning in large numbers. Bandits roam about at will, even in the day time, in Tiflis and its suburbs, exacting tribute. One band has made a systematic collection of $2.50 from peasants. In the government of Tiflis the country is in complete ruin, owing to the suspension of industry and agriculture. News was received here to-day of an outbreak of troubles between Armenians and Tartars in Erivan and Shushua. In Erivan order was restored after a large number of Tartars and Armenians had been killed or wounded. In Shushua the infantry were unable to subdue the Tartars, who killed Armenians in the vicinity of the governor's residence and fired on the governor's quarters. The artillery is now in action.

DERELICT SCHOONER DEERING.

New York, July 25.—Lying in the water with her hull just awash, the Wandering derelict John S. Deering, of Bath, Me., was sighted on July 18, about 1,000 miles west of Queenstown, by the White Star Line steamer Cevic, from Liverpool, which arrived to-day.

Captain Clarke, of the Cevic, considers the derelict a serious menace to navigation because it is directly in the path of all westbound steamers on the North Atlantic passenger route.

The John S. Deering was a three-masted schooner. Late in February, last, she left Wilmington, N. C., with a cargo of lumber for New York. Heavy storms were encountered and the deering became dismasted and water logged. Her master and crew were rescued by another schooner and landed in Philadelphia. It was off Cape Hatteras, N. C., that the derelict started n her wanderings. Since she was left by her crew she has flated with the gulf stream in a northeasterly direction over three thousand miles.

WARM WIRELETS.

Informally the Navy Department has been advised that the opinion of the Department of Justice is to the effect that a battleship under construction is not a public work under eight-hour law and that such public work must be permanent improvements on government property.

W. H. Williams, a brother of G. H. Williams, member of the Georgia House of Representatives from Laurens county, was killed in a ball game at Sopterton yesterday afternoon. He was catcher and a pitched ball hit him in the breast. He died almost instantly.

The Alabama Press Association passed a resolution yesterday inviting William Jennings Bryan to deliver an address on Editors' Day at the Alabama State fair, to be held in Montgomery October 22-27. President W. F. Vandiver, of the Fair Association, has received assurance from Mr. Bryan that he will visit the fair.

At Newport, R. I., yesterday, a Whitehead torpedo fired from the dock at the torpedo station during practice struck and sank a boat in which four seamen gunners were seated. A life boat rescued the seamen. The torpedo was not charged, but it was driven with sufficient force by compressed air to break a hole in the boat at a distance of 300 yards. The men in the boat were stationed on the range line to pick up the spent torpedo and by mischance they got in the way of it.

SERVE NOTICE ON COL. BRYAN

(Charlotte Observer.)

Brooklyn, N. Y., July 24.—The Eagle to-night publishes the following Washington special: If William J. Bryan wants the support of the solid South for the presidency in 1908, he must abandon the idea of advocating government ownership of railroads. Formal notice to this effect will be served upon him in the next few days by Representative John Sharp Williams, of Mississippi, one of the most conservative Democrats of the South. Mr. Williams and Mr. Bryan will meet in Brussels where both will attend the Inter-Parliamentary Congress as delegates. Mr. Williams will speak for the leaders of the party in his section of the country, who have given much thought to the political menace involved in the government ownership plank in the next Democratic national platform. This is a live issue in the South, more so in fact than the people of the other sections of the country can possibly appreciate. It touches the very center of that great bugaboo, race equality, an issue that never fails to wipe out all political lines so far as the white voters are concerned.

Southern Democrats have been alarmed by recent utterances, both public and private, of Mr. Bryan on questions affecting the management of public utilities. It is apparent that the Nebraskan contemplates a radical step in regard to the railroads, and Roosevelt having stolen Mr. Bryan's thunder in regard to rate regulation, the latter is now preparing to take even a more advance position. He has publicly advocated State ownership of railroads and, unless called off by political friends, will urge absolute Federal ownership. The trend of his mind in this direction has been indicated in a private letter received from him in Washington. Bryan evidently thinks that public sentiment is fast drifting toward advanced socialism and that, by the time the next campaign comes around, it will be ripe for the acceptance of sweeping politics along this line. Bryan's followers say that, Congress having authorized Federal regulation of rates, the next logical step is to take over the railroads, bag and baggage. This line of argument will doubtless be very acceptable to the grangers of the West but Southern politicians say it will not go in their part of the country.

Government ownership of railroads means an end to the Jim Crow cars, the continuance of which is imperative, in the opinion of nine-tenths of the people of that section irrespective of party. In fact, so securely is this idea ingrafted on them that the political leader who should advocate abandonment would insure his own political destruction. Leaders of the John Sharp Williams type believe that Bryan is not aware of the intense feeling of the Southern people on this point, consequently they propose to let him know just what the advocacy of government ownership of railroads means. Politicians are wondering to what extent Mr. Bryan will be willing to sacrifice his principles to political expediency. His record with free silver does not encourage the idea that he will quietly accept the warning of the South and not insist upon a radical railroad plank in the Democratic platform.

EGYPTIAN CIVILIZATION.

The origin of Egyptian civilization has been the enigma of the world for the past twenty-five centuries. Presenting no historic or even mythic infancy, it appears before the world at once as a highly civilized and organic community centuries before Moses was a boy. Upon this subject Renan says, "Egypt has no archaic epoch, but suddenly takes its place in the world in all its matchless magnificence, without father and without mother and as clean apart from all evolution as if it had dropped from the unknown heavens." Would not an explanation at least feasible be found in the hypothesis that it received its civilization from some source no longer existing? Menes, the first historic figure in its long line of dynasties, the outlines of whose personality loom up wavering indefinite, but grandly impressive, against the deep mythic background of prehistoric story at least 4500 B. C., conceived and executed enterprises extorting the warmest admiration from the best engineers of the twentieth century. Did he not alter the course of the Nile by vast embankments to gain stable foundations other than the shifting sands for his sacred city of Memphis and construct the artificial lake of Moeris, 450 miles in circumference and 350 feet deep, as a reservoir for the waters of the Nile?

Look, too, at the colossal achievements of his successors in architecture, sculpture, engineering, astronomical, political, medical, social and military science, to say nothing of navigation and theology. Witness the ruins of the Labyrinth recorded by Herodotus, which had 3,000 chambers, half of them above ground and half below, a combination of courts, chambers, colonnades, statues and pyramids. Witness the wonders of the magnificent temple of Karnak, which still awakens our admiration, a temple, as Denon says, wherein the Cathedral of Notre Dame, in Paris, could be set inside one of its halls and yet not touch the walls. Witness the sublime pyramids originally built in honor of the sun god Ra and for use in astronomical observatories, the splendors of Memphis, Thebes and Heliopolis, of the sphinx and the obelisks, the statuary and the numerous temples with the ruins of which the land is still filled.—Exchange.

The Beaver's Tooth.

No carpenter's chisel can do more effective work than is turned out with ease and neatness by the beaver's tooth. This is the principal tool with which these patient, clever builders construct their dams. The outer surface of the tooth is a scale of very hard enamel, while the body of it is of softer dentine. As the softer substance wears away in use the end of the tooth takes a chisel-like bevel, leaving a thin, slightly projecting edge of hard enamel as sharp as any carpenter's tool fresh from the oilstone. The thin scale of enamel gives keenness, the softer dentine supplies strength, and thus the combination forms a formidable tool, which actually sharpens itself by use.

Reassured.

A learned professor, noted for his power of concentration and for his absorption in the matter at hand, came home one night, says a writer in the Philadelphia Ledger, still concentrated on the thought of the evening. He had scarcely pulled the bed covers over himself when he heard a slight noise.

"Is some one there?" he asked.

The professor gave a sigh of relief and turned over to sleep.

"I was almost certain I had heard some one," he remarked to himself.

A Scented Message.

When Lord Randolph Churchill was leader of the house of commons he was a somewhat unconventional occupant of that exalted post, according to a story in the biography by his son.

"I am commanded by the queen," said Lord Iddesleigh, writing to Lord Randolph from Balmoral, "to say that her majesty was greatly amused by the contents of your dispatch box last night. I suppose you won't understand this message without some explanation—there was a liberal sprinkling of tobacco in it!"

Sticking to the Point.

Mother—Have you kept your baby brother nice and quiet while I've been gone, Tommy?

Tommy—Yes, mommer.

Mother—Has he cried any at all?

Tommy—He hasn't made a sound, mommer, not the whole time.

Mother—What did you give him to amuse himself with?

Tommy—The mucilage bottle, and he's been like a mouse since the first suck.—Baltimore American.

THE COTTON MARKETS.

New York, July 25.—The cotton market was steadier to-day after reaching a new low level for the movement on the active months and rallied several points. The close was steady at unchanged prices to an advance of 7 points. Sales for the day were estimated at 175,000 bales. The market opened steady at a decline of 1 point to an advance of 1 point, which was hardly as good as due on the cables and shortly afterward sold off to a net loss of 1 to 5 points under a renewal of bear pressure and liquidation, which was promoted by the favorable weather shown on the early map and by expectations that stop loss orders on the long side would be uncovered under 10.15 for October. The break carried October down to 10.14, but instead of the expected stop-loss selling at the decline to this figure and 9.95 for August, which was under the low point of July, there was a demand for covering and market during the later trading ruled generally steady with the tone approaching firmness in the afternoon on the reports of heavy rains in the sorthern part of Texas which were accompanied by private reports of less favorable crop conditions in the sections. The market closed within a point or two of the best. Southern spot markets were generally unchanged and the steadier Liverpool market was reassuring as to the immediate effect of the Russian situation.

Receipts at the ports to-day 3,831 bales against 2,811 last week and 17,690 last year. For the week 30,000 bales against 25,047 last week and 102,031 last year. To-day's receipts at New Orleans 1,287 bales against 3,619 last year, and at Houston 162 bales against 5,280 last year.

Ladies who have thin hair and whose hair is falling out, can prevent the hair falling out, and thicken the growth, with Newbro's "Herpicide." Besides Herpicide is one of the most agreeable hair dressings there is. Herpicide kills the dandruff germ that eats the hair off at the root. After the germ is destroyed, the root will shoot up, and the hair grow long as ever. Even a sample will convince any lady that Newbro's Herpicide is an indispensable toilet requisite. It contains no oil or grease, it will not stain or dye. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

THE TEACHER TAUGHT.

Sir Edwin Arnold, in his autobiography, tells the unique story of how, as master of the Birmingham Grammar school, he was caned by one of the boys.

The class was engaged on Cicero. Some disorder occurred near the master's chair, and seizing the cane he "gave a nasty cut upon the too tempting back of one youth who seemed to be the offender." "If you please, sir," said the boy, squirming, "I did nothing. It was Scudamore that kicked me in the stomach underneath the desk."

The statement was true. Scudamore had demanded from his neighbor, quite illegitimately, the explanation of an obscure passage and, not being attended to, had taken this much too emphatic means of enforcing attention. Having called the class up, Arnold said to the doubly wronged boy, who was still rubbing the place: "It is I who am most to blame for having dealt you an undeserved blow. Take that cane and give it back to me as hard as you got it." "No, sir," the lad answered. "I can't do that." The whole great schoolroom was now listening, masters and all. Arnold insisted. "Jones, you must obey me, and if you disobey I am sorry to say I shall make you write out that page of Cicero three times, staying in to do it."

Whether it was desperation at this dreadful alternative or the sparkling eyes of his class fellows, evidently longing to have the good luck themselves of "licking" a master, that suddenly inspired Jones, I know not. What I do know is that he reached forth his hand, took the cane and dealt me no sham stroke, but the severest and most telling cut over my shoulders. I had no idea that the ridiculous instrument could sting as it did, like a scorpion. "Rubbing the place" in my own turn, I managed to thank Jones for his obliging compliance and then said to him: "Break that detestable weapon across you knee and throw it out of the window. Never again will we have anything to do with such methods here."

Sir Edwin Arnold adds that corporal punishment is, in his view, a cowardly and clumsy expedient and that "he who cannot teach without the stick had better get some other business."—London Globe.

Old Shoes.

"There are hundreds of men in New York city," said a salesman in a downtown shoe store, "who are indirectly adding to the income of the corporations controlling the shoe business. A man wearing an old pair of shoes, sometimes only half worn, purchases a new pair and leaves his old ones here. Gradually others accumulate, and in time there are, say, a hundred pairs. These are placed in pasteboard boxes, wrapped and tied. About once a month a dealer in secondhand footgear comes along, bids on the lot and gets it. In this way the company profits during the course of a year some hundreds of dollars. Of course, the secondhand man 'gets stuck' once in awhile, but most of them also realize a profit by selling the shoes again after they have been repaired and polished."—New York Post.

Lucy Larcom's First Poem.

There is a poem beginning

The first, the first! Oh, naught like it
Our after years can bring!

which seems to have a peculiar application to first verses in general and to Lucy Larcom's in particular.

When she was seven years old her brother John proposed writing poetry, "just for fun," and she assented. John soon abandoned the attempt, but Lucy produced two verses, which ran thus:

"One summer day," said little Jane,
"We were walking down a shady lane
When suddenly the wind blew high,
And the red lightning flashed in the sky.

"The peals of thunder, how they rolled!
And I felt myself a little cooled,
For I before had been quite warm,
But now around me was a storm."

John was elated over her success, and it is safe to say that Miss Larcom's "after years" saw "naught like it."

A Wise Fish.

In Java they have a species of fish that carries a very useful gun with him wherever he goes. This queer fish is called the jaculator, and his weapon is a combination air and water gun, which nature has provided him with. The jaculator has the power of puckering the mouth into a small, round tube and squirting water through it. He is such an expert gunner that when he observes a beetle or a fly on a twig above the water he invariably knocks the insect from his perch, even though the distance be five or six feet. There are seven other varieties of these water gun fishes, which are known as "sportsmen" and "gunners" on account of their queer habits.

BRYAN'S WORD PAINTING MAKES HIT IN LONDON

Spoke on Peace Yesterday at House of Lords Luncheon—Inter-Parliamentary Conference Defines Contraband of War.

(By Cable to The Morning Star.)

London, July 25.—The conference of the Inter-Parliamentary Union, after a prolonged debate to-day, adopted the following resolution:

"The Inter-Parliamentary Union now assembled in London, expresses the view that the second Hague conference should

"First. By treaty define contraband of war as being restricted to arms, munitions of war and explosives;

"Second. Reassert and confirm the principle that neither a ship carrying contraband of war nor other goods aboard such ship not being contraband of war, may be destroyed;

"Third. Affirm that even between belligerents private property should be as immune at sea as it is on land."

The conference also adopted a resolution in favor of the discussion by "The Hague conference of means to cut down the 'Intolerable expenditure on armaments.'"

The decision as to the time and place of the next conference was left in the hands of the Inter-Parliamentary Council. Representative Bartholdt, of Missouri, read a paper by Senor Diego Mendoza, representing Colombia, making a plea for Bogota, Colombia, as the place for the next meeting, which, with other invitations, was referred to the council. It is expected that it will be held in Berlin in 1908.

Lord Chancellor Loreburn presided at a luncheon at the House of Lords, Ambassador Reid, Paul Cambon, the French Ambassador, Count Benkendorff, the Russian Ambassador, the Speaker of the House of Commons, Mr. Lowther, Herbert Gladstone, the Home Secretary, Chief Secretary Bryce, Wm. J. Bryan and Prince Hechebelef were among the distinguished guests. Mr. Bryan made the hit of the occasion with a brilliant piece of word painting, describing the glories of peace, his text being that a noble life is better than death on the battlefield.

AMERICANS WERE PARDONED.

President Palma of Cuba Releases Miss Brown and Others.

Havanah, July 25.—President Palma this evening pardoned Miss Millie Brown, L. C. Giltner and William Augustine, Americans residing in the Isle of Pines, and a message was immediately sent by wireless telegraph, ordering their release. The pardon is the outcome of efforts of Cnarge d' Affaires Sleeper, who obtained the promise of Secretary of Justice O'Farrill, to recommend clemency if the trio would promise not to again violate the American military order prohibiting private telegraph wires. Mr. Sleper communicated with the prisoners by wireless telegraph and all replied: "Certainly, we authorize you to secure our pardon and promise not to violate military order No. 50."

Upon the presentation of this reply Secretary O'Farrill prepared an order for the pardon which was discussed at this evening's cabinet meeting with the result that President Palma gave it his signature in the meanwhile the Mayor of Nueva C'rona telegraphed to Havanna that he had extended the hospitality of his home to Miss Brown but that she had declined, pending the arrival of her parents tomorrow from Havana. Her mother, who arrived here this week from the United States, said to-night that she would insist on paying the fine imposed on Miss Brown, on the gound that she could not permit her daughter to be used by American revolutionists for the purpose of creating sympathy with their cause.

THAW WAS CRUEL TO EVELYN NESBITT

By Wire to The Morning Star.

New York, July 25.—The Evening World today published an interview with Miss Anna Crane, a massause of this city, whose statement was taken yesterday by an assistant district attorney for possible use in the Thaw case. According to the World interview Miss Crane, who is about 50 years old, was sent to Paris by Stanford White in 1904, in response to appeals from Mrs. Nesbit (now Mrs. Holman), Evelyn Nesbit's mother, and brought the young woman back to New York. Miss Crane is quoted as saying that she knew Miss Nesbit before the young woman and her mother went abroad in 1904 and were followed to aris by Harry K. Thaw. Mr. White, she said, then sent for her, told her that he had received several communications from Mrs. Holman and asked her to go to Paris and straighten out matters.

When she arrived in Paris, Miss Crane said, she found the Nesbits living in a beautiful apartment near the Champs Elyses and that Thaw had been the principal caller upon Miss Nesbit.

"The day before I got there," said Miss Crane, "a terrible row had taken place and Mrs. Nesbit had been put out of the apartment by Thaw, who acted like a maniac. Mrs. Nesbit was nearly destitute and but for the timely arrival of a woman newspaper writer, who had gone abroad with the Nesbits and been left behind in London, she would never have got back to the United States. The newspaper woman aided Mrs. Nesbit with her own money.

Miss Crane said that Miss Nesbit begged her to remain and said she was afraid Thaw would kill her (Miss Nesbit). The succeeding events, Miss Crane said, were the most distressing she ever experienced. She declared her belief that Thaw was a lunatic and said that Miss Nesbit also believed so at that time. Miss Crane said that Miss Nesbit showed to her bruises on her back and arms which Miss Nesbit said were inflicted by Thaw. On several occasions when she was present, Miss Crane said, Thaw tried to choke Miss Nesbit. Miss Crane asserted that she saw Thaw beat Miss Nesbit and that twice when Miss Crane interferred Thaw struck her a blow. He often spoke of Stanford White in a threatening manner, she declared. Finally Thaw consented to allow Miss Nesbit to return to New York and they sailed after a violent scene in London.

On the way across the ocean, said Miss Crane, Miss Nesbit declared her intention of bringing a suit for breach of promise against Thaw and of charging him with assault. When they arrived in New York White's automobile was awaiting them and Miss Nesbit went direct to White's office which, Miss Crane said, must have been by arrangement made by Miss Nesbit's mother. A family conference, she declared, ensued and several days later Miss Nesbit went to the office of A. H. Hummel, the lawyer, and made a statement concerning Thaw's conduct. The suit, Miss Crane said, was to have been for $50,000.

Clifford W. Hartridge, of counsel for Harry K. Thaw, announced to-day that the question of insanity will not enter into Thaw's defense. The lawyer declared that Thaw is "averse to posing as an insane person and that any suggestion in that direction makes him impatient."

BLOODY FIGHT WITH PULAJANES

ENEMY ROUTED AND PURSUED

Seventy Constables and Troops Killed 150 Insurrectionists—Our Loss Only One Man Wounded—Negro Soldiers in Fight.

(By Cable to The Morning Star.)

Manila, July 25.—Advices received here from the Island of Leyte say that a large number of Pulajanes yesterday attacked a column of constabulary and regulars, commanded by Captain George H. McMaster, of the Fourth Infantry. The engagement, which took place near Baneum, resulted in the Pulajanes being repulsed with the loss of 50 men killed and 60 wounded. The troops and constabulary suffered no losses. The Pulajanes fled with the column in pursuit of them.

Later estimates place the number of the Pulajanes dead and wounded at 150. The Pulajanes, who are said to have numbered 500 men, armed with guns and bolos, charged the American column three times. The latter was composed of fifty constabulary, commanded by Captain Neville, and twenty-six colored soldiers of the Twenty-fourth Infantry, commanded by Captain McMaster.

No Occasion for Anxiety.

Washington, D. C., July 25.—The following account of the fatal collision between the Philippine Constabulary and the Pulajanes in Leyte was received at the War Department from General Wood at Mainla dated today:

"Telegram from Department of the Visayas this morning reports engagement between detachment 24th regiment United States infantry and constabulary, and 360 Pulajanes. Enemy's loss 150; our loss one constabulary sergeant wounded. No occasion for anxiety."

TO BE HANGED ON A STEAMER

HE ASSAULTED TWO LADIES

Taken from Jail in Baltimore and Gallows and Coffin Carried Along So Execution Can Take Place on Water.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

Baltimore, Md., July 25.—With the greatest possible secrecy, William Lee, the negro who has been held in the city jail under sentence of death for assaulting two women in Somerset county some weeks ago, was today placed aboard the steamer Governor R. M. McLane, of the Maryland Oyster Navy, and started for Somerset county to be executed for his crime.

Lee's case has been one of great difficulty to the authorities, owing to the indignation the crime aroused on the Eastern Shore of Maryland. It has been repeatedly declared that the citizens of that locality will never allow the negro to be legally executed and threats of burning at the stake have been freely made. After the crime Lee fled to the Eastern Shore of Virginia, and to protect him from Maryland pursuers he was taken to Norfolk, under guard of Virginia State troops, thence he was brought to this city, tried and convicted promptly. The law gives a convicted murderer twenty days between the day of conviction and his execution.

This period expired to-day. On board the Governor McLane the officers having Lee in charge took a gallows, coffin and all other necessary things, and, it is said, that the execution will take place on board the steamer as soon as possible after the waters of Somerset county are reached. This will probably not be until early to-morrow morning.

MURDERER CAUGHT THROUGH WOMAN

COMMITTED MURDER JAN. 6th

Recognized by Woman Who Pointed Him Out to Police—Claims That He is Brother of Man Wanted.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., July 25.—Frank J. Constantine is locked up in the Dutchess county jail in this city on a charge of murder. The prisoner was positively identified this afternoon by a young woman from Chicago.

Chicago, July 25.—Frank J. Constantine, the alleged murderer of Mrs. Louise A. Gentry at her home, 582 LaSalle Avenue, January 6, last, is under arrest in Poughkeepsie, N. Y.

Constatine is said to have been recognized by a woman who once lived in the apartment building in which the murder was committed. She reported to the police authorities at Poughkeepsie that the man was Constantine and he was at once arretsed. Sheriff Hoffman, of Dutchess county, N. Y., telegraphed to the local police that he was holding Constantine, saying that the prisoner did not deny his name, but claiming that he was a brother of Frank J. Constantine. Letters, cards and papers found in the possession of the man all bore the name of Constantine.

The murder of Mrs. Gentry was one of the series of brutal murders of the women which was committed early in the year. No motive for the crime had ever been discovered. Constantine and Mrs. Gentry were alone in the apartment at the time. She died without being able to utter a word and no trace of Constantine was ever discovered after he had left the building. Constantine was seen by a number of people to run from the building but with the exception of the proprietor of a hat store nobody is known to have seen him since he left the building. A. W. Gentry, the husband of Mrs. Gentry, who is a prosperous business man, offered large rewards for the arrest of Constantine and numerous men were arrested in various parts of the country but all of them were later released.

Anna Nolan, colored, her daughter, Blanny Blanks, and the latter's husband, were held to the grand jury at Lauderdale Springs, Miss., yesterday, charged with putting rough on rats into the coffee served to the Springs Hotel guests on Tuesday. The victims of the poisoned coffee are out of danger.

DIVORCE INFAMY AT PITTSBURG

ATTEMPT TO SHOW BRIBERY

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

Pittsburg, Pa., July 25.—Counsel for Augustus Hartje to-day renewed attempts to discredit the testimony of one of Mrs. Mary Scott Hartje's witnesses, Mrs. Blanche Ashby, the colored domestic who lived in the Hartje home, and to prove that she had admitted that she had been promised $300 if she would make the deposition to the effect taht Clifford Hooe, the negro coachman, never had slept in the spare room at the Hartje house when Mr. Hartje was away. Several witnesses who live in Washington, D. C., testified that Mrs. Ashby had told them she had lied in her deposition and that she had been promised money for doing so.

All these witnesses were put on the rack on cross examination by Mrs. Hartje's chief counsel, Attorney John M. Freeman, and some of them contradicted themselves in several instances. Mrs. Ashby was in court all day.

A lively tilt between Judge Robert Frazier and Prof. W. A. Drake, the Chicago handwriting expert, who is testifying on Augustus Hartje's side of the divorce case, enlivened the proceedings to-day. Judge Frazer interrupted the examination of the expert by the attorney and asked several pertinent questions. The expert held his ground and differed with the court in regard to the characteristics of certain words and letters.

The hearing of the conspiracy charges against Augustus Hartje, Johns, and Clifford Hooe, the colored coachman now in jail on charge of perjury in connection with the divorce case, has been postponed for one week from to-day.
